Foreword

I would like to begin this first newsletter of the year by welcoming you all to the new school year. An extra special welcome goes to all those new children (and families) who are now in Fulfen Pre-School and Reception for the first time. The new term has started well and the children are settled into their new classes. It always impresses me how confidently the children return. The partnership we enjoy with families is key and we thank you all in advance for ensuring your children arrive promptly and ready for each important day of schooling.

The children continue to tell us that one of the main reasons they love their school is how the learning is really exciting. Our teachers really go above and beyond to bring learning to life!

Please look at our school website - it shares how we CONTINUE to grow and IMPROVE. A great deal of effort goes into making it a vital information portal for our school community (and further afield). The class pages share information about each year group and the staff that work with your children – get to know them better by clicking on their picture! Do take the time to explore our website as it also contains guidance on everything that you need to know from key policies to important dates to our latest celebratory tweets. If you haven't already, follow us on Twitter using the link at the top of this Newsletter.

Pep the Poet

We had the privilege of having a 'real life' published poet visit our school on Tuesday 20th September 2022. Our friend, Pep the Poet came into school to share his poems with us all.

Pep the Poet is a performance poet and wellbeing champion, who writes and performs amusing poems for children.

The children had the opportunity to explore and recite many of the poems themselves. They will also have had the opportunity to try different accents/dialects: A Geordie spider, a Scottish worm, a Brummie bumblebee and a Liverpoolian ant and a centipede from Dublin, to name but a few!

iPad Roll-out for Year 3

As we continue to develop our digital strategy, children in Year 3 were presented with their iPads. The 'grand-opening' event was a great success and the children were soon utilising their devices.

We understand that keeping up with the times is vital in today's world and that children at Fulfen use technology to support them with their learning and to become digitally literate in order to create content to demonstrate their learning. Research has shown that using technology in this way allows children to develop their creative skills as well as think critically and solve problems. Here are a few photographs from our opening day:
